Pork Producers Announce New Executive Director

LINCOLN, Neb. The Nebraska Pork Producers Association (NPPA) is pleased to announce that Alan R. Juhnke from Willmar, Minnesota will take over the executive director position for NPPA in January of 2016. Juhnke will fill the vacancy created by retiring Larry Sitzman.

The selection was made after a national search and selection process. “We are very pleased to announce this appointment,” stated Scott Spilker, NPPA President. “Al will bring leadership and creativity to the Association. He has an extensive public and private agriculture background and is experienced in public policy.”

Al’s resume includes over 30 years of executive planning, administration, communications and marketing experience in the agriculture sector. Al has served as Ag, Energy and Environment Advisor to U.S. Senator Al Franken since 2011. Prior to joining Senator Franken’s staff, Juhnke served in the Minnesota House of Representatives for 14 years.

Nebraska Pork Producers Association is a grassroots, incorporated, non-profit organization established in 1961. NPPA was developed to promote the pork industry through the enhancement of consumer demand, producer education and research. For more information, visit NPPA’s website at www.NEpork.org.
